

Have you ever seen a tree waving like a hand?
Or heard autumn leaves whispering a song?
Or thought that caterpillars look like eyebrows?
Maybe they are... but whose are they?

Who Am I? is a children's book conceived by Adam Higton. It's small square size was inspired by the Pixi children's books and by the Nupuset series from Petomies. Illustrator Adam Higton is best known for his images of psychedelic, folkloric characters, drawn in his distinctive, nostalgic style. He lives and works in York, UK.
